

Are Baby Sleep Pillows Safe? Safety of Baby Sleep Pillows

The comfort of her children is the concern of every mother. When a woman has her very first baby, she may even be overly concerned about the comfort of her child. When a new mother puts her baby down to sleep, she will want to make sure the baby is perfectly safe and comfortable. When they first came out, the baby sleep pillows were advertised as a way to prevent babies from having flattened heads due to sleeping on one side too long. Most hospitals will use very thin and flat baby sleep pillows. This can lead a new mother to think she may need a baby sleeping pillow for her infant too.

Should you use a baby sleep pillow? Ever wonder what people used in the ancient past when there were no pillows even for adults? Baby sleep pillows have become a modern day need. Doctors do not even recommend that you put a baby sleep pillow in with an infant or toddler under the age of two. The reason for that is that the baby could suffocate. In fact, some baby sleep pillows have been recalled after a number of infants died by suffocation when the baby sleep pillow was used.

If you have a child over the age of two years old, the baby sleep pillow is perfectly safe though. Baby sleep pillows make wonderful gifts to give a young child who are at least two years old. They can even become emotionally attached to baby sleep pillows.

Baby sleep pillows for toddlers are not the same kind of sleep pillows that older children and adults use. If you want to give one as a gift, look for a small travel size baby sleep pillow. It should be washable and non allergenic. Look for one that does not have any tassels or beads, buttons, etc. This way a toddler will not choke on buttons or tassels or other such things.

Baby sleep pillows should be stuffed firmly so that when the toddler who lays his or head down on it, will not sink into it. There are a lot of baby sleep pillows for sale and you should be able to find just the one you want. You can personalize it if you make it yourself. All you have to do is buy a firm travel pillow and then sew up a new cover for it with the fabric of your choice. You will find a lot of cute material you can choose from. Finish off by embroidering the name of the child on it. You could even use some washable fabric paint to print his or her name on it. Everyone will love this perfect gift!
